GAME 24—MEAC Game #11
Hampton (14-9, 8-2) vs. Howard (10-11, 6-3)
HU Convocation Center
Hampton, Va.
February 11, 2017

QUICK HITS

THE GAMES

Hampton hits the home hardwood for the next to last time this season as they'll face Howard in a key Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) matchup.

ABOUT HAMPTON

Hampton is 14-9 and 8-2 in MEAC action after pulling off a 51-50 win at South Carolina State on Monday night. K'Lynn Willis tied her season high with 16 points to lead the team in scoring. She had 11 of Hampton's 15 points in the third period to get back to within a point to start the fourth.

ABOUT HOWARD

Howard enters the contest with a 10-11 record overall and 6-3 in MEAC play after dropping a 75-54 decision at Bethune-Cookman on Monday. Te'Shya Heslip leads the Bison in scoring (15.4 ppg), assists (10.6), steals (8.6) and third in rebounds (5.2 rpg). Sydni Johnson (11.6 ppg) and Erin Blaine (10.0 ppg) round out the double figure scorers for Howard.

SERIES VS. HOWARD

Hampton leads the all-time series with Howard 33-21 after the teams split action last year. Howard won in Washington, DC 83-77 in OT and Hampton won 77-48 in Hampton. The Lady Pirates have won 17 of the last 18 matchups.

NEXT UP

Hampton will head back south next weekend to face Bethune-Cookman (Feb 18) and Florida A&M (Feb. 20) in two big MEAC matchups.

NSU GAME TIME CHANGE

The final home game of the regular season for the Lady Pirates has been bumped back an hour on the start time as the Battle of the Bay with Norfolk State will now be a 6pm start on Feb. 27.

LADY PIRATES AGAINST THE MEAC

Hampton is 346-148 against teams currently in the MEAC and the Hampton has won eight MEAC regular-season titles to go along with eight tournament titles, including five of the last seven.

LADY PIRATES PICKED TO FINISH THIRD

Hampton was picked to finish third in the MEAC this season in a preseason poll voted on by the league's head coaches and sports information directors. The Lady Pirates wound up third in the conference standings after going 11-5 in MEAC play last season.

LADY PIRATES THE MEAC'S BEST

Since Hampton joined the MEAC in 1995, no program has won as many conference tournament titles. The Lady Pirates have won eight titles overall — including five of the last seven — while Howard has the second-most with four. Over that same span, Hampton has won at least a share of eight regular-season titles, which is also the most among conference teams.

LADY PIRATES VS. VIRGINIA SCHOOLS —DIVISION I ERA

The Lady Pirates have fared well against in-state competition since moving to Division I in the 1995-96 season. Hampton is a combined 49-36 against Virginia schools in that time frame.

LADY PIRATES: VIRGINIA'S BEST

Since David Six's arrival, the Lady Pirates have been the best program in the Commonwealth of Virginia — even better than such programs as James Madison, Old Dominion, Virginia, Richmond, and Liberty. On top of five of the last seven MEAC Tournament titles, five straight MEAC regular-season titles, five straight NCAA Tournament appearances, and a WNIT appearance, the Lady Pirates are serving notice throughout Virginia.

Over the past seven seasons, Hampton has the second-best record among Virginia's Div. I women's basketball programs, compiling a .711 winning percentage during Six's tenure.

NOTES OF STEAL

GIMME THAT — TIMES TWO

In the 83-52 win over Delaware State on January 14, Hampton forced 41 Delaware State turnovers and had 26 steals in the game. Those numbers are the best in the tenure of Hampton University head coach David Six. The 26 steals are the ninth most this season in NCAA Division I action.

Two days later, Georgianna Gilbeaux etched her name into the record books as she recorded the third highest total in a game in school history with nine steals against N.C. Central.

MORE STEALING

Hampton is ranked 37th in the latest NCAA Division I statistics averaging 10.2 steals per game. Five games have been at least 15 steals or more for Hampton topped by the 26 swipes against Delaware State on January 14.

TURNOVERS—NOT OF THE SWEET TASTING TYPE

So far this year, Hampton has been on a feast of turnovers. Not the type that your mother would make for special occasions, the ones that frustrate opponents.

Through 24 games this year, Hampton has forced an average of 20.9 turnovers per game which ranks them 19th in the latest NCAA Division I statistics. In 13 of the 23 games have seen opponents turn the ball over at least 20 times.

NO RETURNING ON THE TURNOVERS

Hampton has been rather stingy of late in not turning the ball over themselves as they average 14.2 turnovers per game. The Lady Pirates hold a +6.75 turnover margin which ranks them 10th in the latest NCAA Division I statistics. In 11 of the 23 games so far this year have seen Hampton turn the ball over 12 or fewer times, with four of those being in single digits.

2016-17 HAMPTON UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

BLOCK PARTY FOR ONE— LUPOE

Kaylah Lupoe, a preseason second team All-MEAC selection, has recorded multiple blocked shots in 12 of the 18 games thus far this year and had a career-high tying six in the win over N.C. Central on Jan. 16. For the year she is ranked fourth in the MEAC in blocked shots averaging 2.2 per game. Her six blocks ties her best against Howard (2/9/15) and Texas (11/25/15) and is the second most in a game in school history.

She became the sixth Lady Pirate all time to have 100 blocked shots on her career with a pair of blocks against Savannah State on January 9. After her five blocks against Norfolk State on Jan. 21, she moved up two spots on the career blocked shot list now where she now has 122.

WILLIS PRESEASON THIRD TEAM ALL-MEAC

As the season progressed last year Willis raised her game to the level of being a MEAC All-Rookie team selection as a freshman. This year she is picked to the Preseason Third Team after averaging just under nine points and two assists per game. She finished the year ranked 30th in the MEAC in scoring and had nine games of double figures in points, all after conference season started. Willis put up a season-best 31 points in a home win over Howard.

ALL THEY DO IS WIN

The Lady Pirates come into the 2016-17 season with the third-highest winning percentage among all Div. I women's basketball programs in the Commonwealth of Virginia. In David Six's first seven years at the helm, the Lady Pirates went 160-66 overall (a .708 winning percentage), behind only James Madison and Liberty in terms of winning percentage. Hampton has won at least 20 games in five of Six's first seven seasons.

LADY PIRATES AGAINST "POWER CONFERENCES"

In David Six's seven seasons at the helm, the Lady Pirates have enjoyed success against the six so-called "power conferences:" the ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big XII, Pac-12, and SEC. After a 47-42 win over Wake Forest on Dec. 28 last year, the Lady Pirates are 10-28 against teams in these six conferences.

During Six's tenure, Hampton boasts wins over LSU, Florida, Boston College, Pitt, Mississippi State, Kansas State, Virginia Tech, and Auburn — and the Lady Pirates took Kentucky to overtime in the first round of the NCAA Tournament in March 2011. This season, Hampton has faced the likes of Northwestern, Iowa, North Carolina State and South Carolina.

DEFENSE, DEFENSE, DEFENSE

Defense has been a staple of the Lady Pirates during head coach David Six's tenure. The MEAC Defensive Player of the Year award has gone to a Hampton player four times in the last seven seasons, and in each of those seven seasons, the Lady Pirates have ranked top 50 nationally in scoring defense. Hampton led all Div. I teams in scoring defense in 2012

-13, holding opponents to 47.8 points per game. In 2011-12, Hampton was second in the nation, behind UConn, in scoring defense, giving up 47.6 points per game.

SIX SETTING MILESTONES

When the Lady Pirates beat Penn 58-43 on Dec. 5, 2014, Six became the program's all-time winningest coach at the Div. I level. So far, Six's career winning percentage (.711) is the best in Div. I program history and second overall to the legendary James Sweat, who won 82.1 percent of his games with the Lady Pirates from 1981-88. Only four head coaches have an overall winning record with the Lady Pirates: Six, Sweat, the late Tiny L. Laster (.626, 1988-95), and Patricia Cage-Bibbs (.605, 1997-2004). Six won his 150th game on Jan. 9 when the Lady Pirates defeated Bethune-Cookman 60-45.

FINNEY-SMITH OPENS WITH A BANG

Monnazjea Finney-Smith played her first game in a Lady Pirate uniform in the 67-48 loss at Northwestern and topped Hampton in scoring with 16 points and four 3-pointers. Her three-pointer to close the first quarter gave Hampton an 18-10 lead. The Portsmouth, Va. native is averaging 11.1 points per game.

ALL-TRNY FOR FINNEY-SMITH WITH SPECIAL TWITTER NOTE

In the Florida Gulf Coast Classic on Dec. 29-30, Monnazjea Finney-Smith earned All-Tournament honors after averaging 16 points and 9.5 rebounds in the two games.

Her honor was noted on twitter and got several retweets, including by the boss of her brother Dorian Finney-Smith the owner of the Dallas Mavericks Mark Cuban

BATES GETS START IN FRONT OF FAMILY

Ashley Bates got the start in the season opener at Northwestern in front of a large contingent of family members from Hopkins, Minnesota. She scored the first points of the season for Hampton and finished with four points and two rebounds in 25 minutes.

BIRTHDAY GAL GOES FOR SEASON HIGH

On January 14, the birthday of Ashley Bates, she recorded a then season-best 13 points and tied season best three steals in the 83-52 win at Delaware State. She has topped that twice lately, last being on Jan. 30 with 18 against Coppin State.

CLIPPING OWLS

After playing their first eight games away from home, Hampton opened its home schedule with an impressive 71-65 win over Temple on December 7. The Owls, who were pre-season picked #2 in the American Athletic Conference, boosted the strength of that win when they defeated #17/16 DePaul 84-74 on December 15.

2016-17 HAMPTON UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

HEAD COACH DAVID SIX

In just seven seasons as head coach of the Hampton University women's basketball program, David Six has rewritten the history books. As Six embarks on his eighth season, a look at what he's achieved so far:

- 160 wins, most of any coach in program Div. I history.
- Five straight MEAC Tournament championships (2010-14).
- Five straight NCAA Tournament appearances (2010-14).
- Five straight MEAC regular-season titles (2011-11 to 2014-15).
- One WNIT appearance (2015).
- Earned the program's first win in a Div. I postseason tournament in the 2015 WNIT.
- Hampton was a No. 12 seed in the 2014 NCAA Tournament (best for a MEAC school in the 64-team format).
- Hampton was a No. 13 seed in the 2011 NCAA Tournament.
- Five straight 20-win seasons (2009-10 to 2013-14).
- Three-time MEAC Coach of the Year (2010-11, 2012-13, 2013-14).
- Five-time MEAC Tournament Most Outstanding Coach (2010-14).
- Four MEAC Defensive Players of the Year.
- Three MEAC Players of the Year.
- One MEAC Rookie of the Year.
- Eighteen All-MEAC honorees.

The 2015-16 season saw the Lady Pirates win 14 games amidst a daunting non-conference schedule, before losing in the semifinals of the MEAC Tournament to North Carolina A&T. But guard Malia Tate-DeFreitas, one of the nation's most prolific scorers, was named MEAC Player of the Year for the second straight season – and through three seasons, Tate-DeFreitas is third on the school's all-time scoring list (second among Div. I players, and just 28 points shy of LaShondra Dixon-Gordon).

In 2014-15, the Lady Pirates won 19 games and yet again sat atop the MEAC regular-season standings behind the performance of MEAC Player of the Year Malia Tate-DeFreitas. Despite falling in the quarterfinals of the conference tournament to Maryland Eastern Shore – which broke the Lady Pirates' historic string of five straight MEAC Tournament crowns – Hampton earned a berth to the WNIT.

In the first round, the Lady Pirates defeated Drexel in a 45-42 defensive struggle – earning the program's first-ever postseason tournament win at the Div. I level.

Tate-DeFreitas was also named First Team All-MEAC, while junior guard Ryan Jordan was a Third Team All-MEAC selection. In addition, Tate-DeFreitas – who led the MEAC in scoring and ranked 14th nationally – was named VaSID First Team All-State and was an ECAC Third Team All-Star.

Hampton's first win of the 2014-15 season – a 58-43 victory at Penn – was Six's 128th career win, making him the program's all-time winningest Div. I coach. He surpassed Patricia Cage-Bibbs on the all-time wins list with that victory.

In seven seasons, Six is 160-65, and his .711 winning percentage is the second-highest in program history (and the best among Div. I coaches). During that time, Six's teams have gone 99-13 in regular-season conference play – including back-to-back 16-0 seasons in 2012-13 and 13-14.

In 2013-14, Six guided the Lady Pirates to a Div. I program record-tying 28 wins and their fifth straight MEAC Tournament title – a feat that had never been accomplished in the history of the conference. For their efforts, the Lady Pirates earned a No. 12 seed in the NCAA Tournament – the best seed ever for a MEAC school in the tournament's 64-team format – taking on Michigan State.

Six was named MEAC Coach of the Year for the second straight season and third time overall, while Tate-DeFreitas was named the conference's Rookie of the Year. Senior guard Nicole Hamilton was named First Team All-MEAC. Alyssa Bennett, a senior forward, was named MEAC Defensive Player of the Year for the second straight season. Bennett was also a First Team All-MEAC selection; Tate-DeFreitas was named Second Team.

Bennett's two MEAC Defensive Player of the Year awards, along with back-to-back Defensive Player of the Year honors for Quanneisha Perry in 2009-10 and 2010-11, give the Lady Pirates four MEAC Defensive Players of the Year in the six seasons Six has been at the helm – further highlighting his philosophy that defense wins both games and championships.

In 2012-13, the Lady Pirates led all of Div. I in scoring defense, holding opponents to just 47.8 points per game. That season, Hampton won 28 games, went undefeated in MEAC play, and won their fourth straight MEAC Tournament championship. Along the way, Six was named MEAC Coach of the Year and Keiara Avant became the first Hampton player ever to be named MEAC Player of the Year.

The year before that, Hampton was second in the nation in scoring defense – behind only UConn – giving up 47.6 points per game. That season, the Lady Pirates also ranked fourth in the nation in field goal per-

2016-17 HAMPTON UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

In 2013-14, Hampton was 16th in the nation in scoring defense, holding opponents to just under 57 points a game. The Lady Pirates have ranked in the top 50 nationally in scoring defense in each of Six's first six seasons.

The 2010-11 season saw the Lady Pirates win 25 games and go 15-1 in the MEAC before winning their second straight conference tournament crown. That season included wins over the likes of James Madison and East Carolina – both of which came on the road – and the Lady Pirates were awarded a No. 13 seed to take on Kentucky in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. At the time, that was the best seed a MEAC team had earned in the NCAA's 64-team format.

The Lady Pirates nearly pulled off the upset in Albuquerque, N.M., falling to the fourth-seeded Wildcats 66-62 in overtime. That season, point guard Jericka Jenkins not only earned First Team All-MEAC honors, but the Associated Press recognized her as an All-America honorable mention – marking the first time in program history that a Hampton player had been honored by the AP. Jenkins was second in the nation that season with 7.0 assists per game.

2010-11 also saw Perry win the second of her back-to-back MEAC Defensive Player of the Year awards.

In Six's first season, 2009-10, the Lady Pirates went 12-4 in MEAC play to earn the No. 2 seed in the conference tournament. From there, Hampton upended UMES, Bethune-Cookman, and South Carolina State to take their first MEAC Tournament crown since 2004 and earn a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

The win over South Carolina State was Hampton's 20th that season, marking the first time since 2002-03 that the Lady Pirates had won 20 games. Six was the interim head coach that season, and following the Lady Pirates' NCAA Tournament game at Duke, he was awarded with a multi-year contract.

During his tenure, Six has never shied away from playing bigger-name schools; in his six seasons at the helm, the Lady Pirates are 9-18 against schools from the six so-called "power conferences:" the ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big XII, Pac-12, and SEC. Last season saw Hampton defeat Auburn, and the year before that the Lady Pirates defeated both Virginia Tech and Kansas State.

In 2012-13, the Lady Pirates picked up a road win over Mississippi State and home wins over LSU and Boston College, before dropping close contests to both South Carolina and DePaul at the Paradise Jam. In 2011-12, wins at Pitt and Boston College highlighted a 26-win season.

Hampton's first win over a power conference school under Six came in the 2010-11 season, when the Lady Pirates beat Florida 69-54 in the HU

Convocation Center.

Hampton has been almost unbeatable in the Convocation Center since Six took over, going a combined 60-10 at home during his tenure. That includes a span from 2011-12 through 2013-14 where the Lady Pirates only lost twice at home, going a combined 32-2.

In 2012-13, Hampton was a perfect 11-0 at home.

But the Lady Pirates have been just as strong on the road; during their six seasons under Six, they have gone a combined 62-27 in road games. Between the 2010-11 and 2013-14 seasons, the Lady Pirates were a combined 47-11 on the road – including a 13-1 mark in 2012-13. Hampton has been one of the flagship programs in the Commonwealth of Virginia since Six took over, boasting the second-best winning percentage (.753) among the state's 13 Div. I programs over the past six years. During that span, only James Madison has a higher winning percentage.

Prior to being named the Lady Pirates' head coach, his first collegiate coaching job, Six spent a year as the Director of Intramurals at Hampton University. That position came after Six established himself as one of Virginia's top high school coaches, embarking on a career that saw him win 331 games over 14 seasons and take home two state championships (2001, 2007).

Six was a two-time Virginia High School League Coaches Association (VHSLCA) Coach of the Year, and in 2007 – after leading Hampton (Va.) High School to the girls state title – he was named Associated Press Coach of the Year. The Lady Crabbers were 30-2 that season.

During his tenure as a high school coach, Six was instrumental in helping more than 30 players receive basketball scholarships, while transforming the Hampton High girls basketball program into one of the elite programs in the country.

In addition to his two state titles, Six won one regional title, made 10 regional appearances, made five state Final Four appearances, won nine district titles, and won nine district tournament titles.

From 1996-98, Six was the boys varsity coach at Gloucester (Va.) High School, where he twice led the team to the Peninsula District Tournament. He is the only boys varsity coach to ever qualify for the district tournament at Gloucester.

More importantly, Six's dedication, influence and strong leadership skills greatly contributed in many of the young women that he has coached excelling in a variety of professions to include a lawyer, entrepreneur, Rhodes scholar, two college coaches, four educators, and host of other young productive citizens.

Six arrived in the Tidewater area in November 1985, by way of the United States Air Force. He was stationed at Langley Air Force in Hampton, Va.
